Dear Barry,

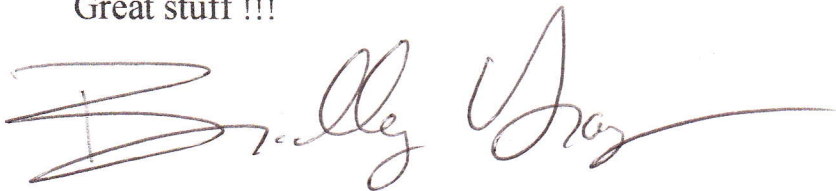

Your program before RBC Liberty Life's Conference was good. Really good. Really really good !

As you can tell, I had a great time listening to you.

I also noticed how effectively you used your sense of humor in getting across the message of your program. The little scenarios and Wall Street Journal headlines you created in the beginning got the audience laughing, but just as importantly, it also got them to be more attentive and drew them into what you were saying.

You clearly had us in the palm of your hand. All I could see was a lot of happy faces and a sea of « DITWILLY » buttons....reminding us all to avoid the « Did It That Way Last Year » syndrome.

Great stuff !!!

Bradley Lagrange

P.S. Thanks for a terrific time. I can't remember the last time I had such a good time doing something that was good for me.
